Gov. and Mrs. Jesse Stone, Secretary of State W. H. Froelich and his son John, State Treasurer J. O. Davidson, wife and daughter and Railroad Commissioner Rice.

Elaborate preparations are being made at Buffalo, N. Y., July 25.—The Wisconsin commissioners are making elaborate preparations for the ceremonies and functions of Wisconsin day at the exposition.

Wisconsin day at the Pan-American will be one of the big days of the exposition. Saturday July 27th, is the day the Badger state people will own the exposition.

Formal ceremonies will take place in the Temple of Music at 10:30 a. m. There will be music by the Cuban band and addresses by the Hon. Wm. Spooner, Gov. R. M. LaFollette, Attorney General E. R. About 150 people a day are registering at the Wisconsin building, which indicates clearly that next Saturday will be a rousing day. A special train over the Nickel Plate, leaving Madison at 8:20 a. m. Thursday morning will get into Buffalo at 7:35 Friday evening.

It is expected that Hon. H. John Spooner, senior senator from Wisconsin, will be present and will be the guest of Mr. Milburn during his stay in Buffalo.

Wisconsin has good reason to be proud of her showing at the Pan-American.

Fine Dairy Exhibit
The dairy exhibit is especially creditable, Wisconsin butter ranking with the best. In the Forestry Building Wisconsin occupies considerable space and has a comprehensive exhibit of woods mostly, with highly polished surfaces.

In the agriculture building there is a large exhibit comprising some five hundred varieties.

Wisconsin building-stone is exhibited near the south-east entrance to the Mines Building.

The Wisconsin building has a location as desirable as that of any state building. It is near the triumphal Causeway, just west of the canal, and is a structure of handsome appearance, furnished with comfort and even elegance throughout.

FARMERS MUST HOLD THEIR FEED; NOT A POUND SHOULD BE WASTED

Owing to the Drought, Grain, Hay and Straw Will Be Needed, and Bring High Prices Next Winter.

Madison, Wis., July 25.—W. A. Henry, director general of the agricultural experiment station at Madison has issued the following bulletin in the interest of farmers:

"The most disastrous drought which ever afflicted this country now prevails from Ontario to Kansas and Texas, covering a region over a thousand miles long by several hundred miles in width. It includes southern Wisconsin. There is every prospect of a great shortage of crops in this region. Stockmen in southern Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and other states will have to buy great quantities of grain, hay and straw to keep their stock alive next winter.

"A part of Wisconsin has abundant crops. If the farmers so blessed will

SHAFFER MAKES SERIOUS THREATS

Says He Will Cause the Arrest of the Steel Trust Men—J. P. Morgan is Among Them.

New York, July 25.—"Without fear I make the statement that unless the strike is ended speedily, I will cause the arrest of every one in the big corporation from Mr. Morgan down, charging them with violating the laws, which provide that a man shall not be hindered from allying himself with any organization. These people are hindering us by unfair means, and it must stop. Mr. Morgan will not start a wheel in the mills unless he settles with or destroys the Amalgamated association."

This is the language of Theodore Schaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. Mr. Schaffer has written for the current Independent an article called "The Steel Strike From the Workman's Standpoint."

GRAND JURY HEARS MASS OF EVIDENCE

True Bills Looked for Today in the Hearing of John A. Hinsey and Other Pythians.

Chicago, July 25.—Indictments against John A. Hinsey and one of his associates in the Knights of Pythias endowment rank trouble, which called the supreme lodge into extraordinary session in Chicago two weeks ago, were brought before the grand jury yesterday. Rumor had it this morning that true bills had been voted.

Additional evidence will be heard today of irregularities, of bad investments, of mysterious disappearances of funds, of falsified accounts, of unusual loans of money and of the investigation of death lists which are suspected of being fictitious. The exact form which the criminal charges should take will then be determined and true bills are expected to be returned by the clerk of the criminal court.

The evidence given yesterday involves, as the associate of Hinsey, according to the investigation by the supreme lodge, H. B. Stolte, former secretary of the endowment rank. W. R. Kenedy, editor of the Pythian Tribune and advertising agent, was brought into the affair.

SUSPENSION RODS YIELD TO HEAT

Great Brooklyn Bridge is Broken, Cars Are Stopped, and a Multitude Has to Walk.

New York, July 25.—There was a break yesterday in the structural steel work of Brooklyn bridge was stopped by the police as a precautionary measure. Several hundred thousand persons asked why, and the answers from policemen and Brooklyn Rapid Transit officials at the Manhattan end were all something like this: "The bridge is broke that's all we know about it. You can walk over. Move on."

Brooklyn walked home in a mighty army filling the promenade full and overflowing into the roadways. Lucky was the man or woman who could clamber on a truck and the truckmen collected fares.

What had happened out on the middle span was this: Twelve of the steel suspension rods connecting the extreme north cable with the outside ends of the transverse girders which support the roadway, car tracks and footway were broken because of the expansion of the bridge structure on account of the heat. That is the cause given by Chief Engineer Samuel R. Pabasco of the Department of Bridges.

GIRL IN MAN'S CLOTHES

Woman Fooled the Police Until She Attempted to Light a Match

Marquette, Wis., July 24.—A young woman from Oshkosh came to Menominee the other day, attired in men's clothes, and fooled the police completely until she attempted to light a cigar. She didn't make the right motion in striking a light, held the weed as she would a knitting needle and walked carefully to the edge of the sidewalk before expiring. Then the police arrested her.

DROUTH BROKEN IN STATE OF IOWA; OTHER STATES ALSO GET RELIEF

Heavy Rains Reported Throughout Nebraska, the Dakotas and Minnesota Last Night and Today—Death Rate at St. Louis Growing.

Chicago, July 25.—Reports received this morning indicate that the great drought is broken in at least one state in the corn belt, Iowa, and that some relief has come to Nebraska, Northern Illinois, Dakota, Southern Minnesota and Michigan.

In Iowa last night and this morning there was a heavy rain and corn that survived the week of hot, dry weather is safe unless such another unprecedented period sets in. Western Nebraska corn is believed to be safe. Dispatches here this morning say that a heavy rain has fallen throughout the state.

Added to the incalculable damage the intense heat and long lasting hot wave has done to the crops of the several states throughout the corn belt is the terror of its increasing death toll. More than forty persons succumbed in St. Louis in the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock last evening. The total number since the beginning of the hot spell is more than 100.

STALWARTS WILL MAKE A FIGHT FOR REELECTION OF SPOONER

They Have Started an Organization Which Will Excel Anything Ever Known in Badger Politics—Means a Hot Contest Against La Follette.

[Special to the Record-Herald.] Milwaukee, July 25.—The Stalwarts will make a fight against the present state administration. They will have an organization, which, it is claimed, will excel anything ever known in the history of politics in Wisconsin. They have engaged the entire eleventh floor of the Harman building. The headquarters will be in charge of Senator Bessell of Lodi and on his shoulders will rest the responsibility of carrying out the program outlined by the leaders of the anti-administration forces.

For the present all that is admitted by the leaders in the movement is that they were organizing to secure the re-election of Senator Spooner. If they stop at that there will be a little in the way of warfare in the party. As has been stated in these dispatches before Senator Spooner can succeed himself if he wishes to. But it is probable that if the Stalwarts secure the organization they will hardly stop at the senatorship. Probably if they can secure the right kind of a candidate it will not be surprising to see them lined up for a fight against Governor LaFollette. If this is done one of the hottest fights ever known in the politics of the state will be seen, with the result in doubt until the meeting of the state convention next year.

CITY HALL STRUCK BY CANNON SHELL

Gun Goes Off During Battleship Drill and Hurtles Through Streets of Newport, R. I.

Newport, R. I., July 25.—Newport's city hall was struck by a shell from the battleship Kearsarge in the harbor yesterday afternoon. It was a miracle that nobody was hurt.

The shell hit one of the great granite blocks of the second story, within fifteen inches of an open window, where people were standing, making a hole an inch deep, glanced against the stone balcony, then took another direction, passing up Bull street until it struck a tree, where it tore off a branch several inches in diameter, and burst into fragments.

CHICAGO RECORD SMASHED DROUGHT COMPELS FARMER TO MARKET IMMATURE CATTLE

Chicago, Ill., July 25.—The world's record was smashed today at the stock yards, when there was received 2,397 cars of stock, or a total of 34,785 cattle, 37,411 hogs and 22,050 sheep. This breaks the record for cattle by over 5,000. With this great number of cattle on the market prices took a tumble and did not stop until they had depreciated anywhere from 15 to 40 cents a hundred below last Friday's market. This means a big loss to the farmers who have been compelled by the drought to market immature cattle.

BLEEDING PICTURE TAKEN ABROAD

Menominee, Mich., July 25.—Antone Charnetzki, the Pole in whose house the bleeding picture was discovered and which created so much excitement here recently, left for Europe today and took the picture with him. The alleged blood stains are still visible. He believes that the stains forbode ill omen and prefers to leave Menominee for his native land.

The picture will be exhibited in Russia and Poland. Miss Josephine Schlater will visit relatives in Plattville for the next two weeks.

FAST SUMS OF GOLD COME FROM ALASKA

Nearly $3,000,000 Has Reached San Francisco and Seattle by the Steamer Route.

San Francisco, July 25.—The big steamer St. Paul arrived last evening direct from St. Michaels, bringing six tons of gold from Dawson and other points on the Yukon, valued at nearly $2,339,500. Most of her gold was consigned to large commercial companies. The two score of returned miners had little money to show for their severe work and hardships.

Seattle, Wash., July 25.—The steamer Victorian arrived here from Skagway yesterday bearing $500,000 worth of bullion consigned to the Canadian bank of Commerce.

Vienna, July 25.—An explosion in a mine at Doneg, Russia, caused the death of twenty.

ASSEMBLY OPENS AT DIXON TODAY

Fourteenth Annual Rock River Meeting—The Wisconsin Luther Leaguers Are in Session.

Thore Eggen of Madison, President of the State League. Addresses were made by the Rev. E. L. Loe of Beloit and the Rev. W. K. Frick, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, Milwaukee, who spoke on "My Own Dear Church."

GOOD SCORES FOR RIVENOAKS CUP

W. Holabird, Jr., Lowered the Golf Course Record to 78—Some Brilliant Scores Yesterday.

Fred R. Pettit, of Kenosha, who tied with Chester Allen, of Kenosha, and was finally defeated by Allen when the tie was played off for the cup for the best score in the qualifying round of the Wisconsin State Championship cup in this city last week, was one of the eight to qualify for the Rivenoaks cup at Onwentsia yesterday.

Crack golfers from all parts of the United States took part in the tournament. Sixty-two players started in the qualifying round and many who were expected to finish near the top of the list were not in it. Pettit. The course record was 79 and Pettit's record of 83 shows that he was playing fine golf. W. Holabird, Jr., lowered the course record to 78. L. T. Boyd, of Milwaukee, qualified in the Tyro cup which was the third prize. Louis Alfs, of Milwaukee, Chester Allen, of Kenosha, qualified for the committee cup or fourth prize.

Twenty-two players failed to qualify in any of the four events, a score above 91 being shut out. Quite a number of these players will be at Milwaukee next week and the members of the Slinnissippi club that attend the tournament will have to play fine golf to get into either event.

NEWS FROM BELOIT.

Beloit, July 25.—H. Rosenblatt, the head of the Rosenblatt overall factory, died at 9:30 this morning. He was born in Saxony-Weimar, Germany, Dec. 3, 1826, and came to the United States in 1850 and to Beloit in March, 1855, and entered the mercantile business. He removed to Chicago in 1864, and returned again in 1876, shortly afterward establishing the overall factory.

Mrs. Alice Smith, sister of Manker W. M. Britton, died yesterday afternoon at Chicago. She was brought to Beloit for burial.

The joint Catholic societies of this city are having a big picnic at Yost's park, four miles up the river, today. Revs. Goebel of Janesville and Ward of Beloit are the speakers.

Lightning struck and killed a cow and calf on the W. B. Strong place near Janesville last night. It is stated this morning that the committees in charge of the Berlin and Thompson works matter have closed a deal satisfactory to all parties concerned. This secures to Beloit two of her largest factories and means a big increase in employees and output.

I. A. Hall and George B. Campbell, of Beloit, were in the city yesterday on business.

ELKS HAVE FUN ON THE CORSO

People Pelt Each Other with Confetti on the Milwaukee Streets.

CLOSE OF CARNIVAL

Salt Lake, Utah, Captures the Next Meeting of Elk Brotherhood.

GRAND RAPIDS WON

Milwaukee, July 25.—At 1:30 o'clock today the "Fun on the Corso" in connection with the Elks carnival began. Grand avenue and Wisconsin streets from the lake to 11th street were crowded with enthusiastic people throwing confetti. There was a state band contest in the Court of Honor and the carnival parade. This evening there will be a promenade, installation of Grand lodge officers and the carnival will close with a grand ball at the exposition building.

Won by Salt Lake Utah.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 25.—Like the contest for the grand, exalted rulership, the selection of a place to hold the next meeting of the grand lodge of Elks was a one-sided affair, Salt Lake, Utah, winning easily over Saratoga, N. Y., Charleston, S. C., and Baltimore, Md. Salt Lake had the meeting from the start, its works and plans telling in every direction. The "Mormons" as the Elks call them have been out after the convention for a long time, and came prepared to make an offer that could not be duplicated by any of the other contesting cities.

Parade by the Elks. There was a proposition before the convention to change the date of the 1902 meeting to September, but this met with a great deal of opposition, and will be up for discussion today.

The parade of Elks yesterday afternoon, the fire run, and the "ghost walk" last night were the principal events on the programme of amusements. The parade was one of the best in the history of the organization, and fully as large. The "Purple Guards" of Chicago, about 200 strong, the Toledo and Grand Rapids delegations were the largest and best drilled. They made a very creditable appearance. The Chicagoans unquestionably wore the handsomest costumes—purple coats, white duck trousers, canvas shoes, and white hats.

Won By Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids took the first, Toledo second, and Chicago third prizes in the parade for general appearance, and bearing. For beauty and originality of costumes and number in line Grand Rapids gets $1,000; Toledo $400, and Chicago $250. The unique prizes were won by the Greenville (Miss.) cotton pickers, and the Omaha Indians. The other awards will not be made until tomorrow.

The fire run was pulled off in a driving rain at 8:45 last night. In a driving rainstorm and was witnessed by thousands of people, who lined Grand avenue and Wisconsin streets. It was the same dash of the fire ladders the past four years only there were added flashes of lightning and peals of thunder. There were twenty-one pieces of apparatus in the run, seventy-five horses and 150 men, about half of the department. Notwithstanding the slippery asphalt over which the run was made, the horses held their feet throughout and there was no accident to mar the event.

CEMENT PALACES OF THE FUTURE

Concrete to Replace Brick and Stone in Building Cottages and Mansions.

Quarries may within a few years lie idle and stone cutting be forgotten. The arts of brick making and brick laying may be lost. These are no exaggerated statements, but well considered, practical possibilities.

In some of the Western states, lately in the East and to a small extent on the continent of Europe, a new idea in building is under way. Brick and stone are dispensed with and cement takes their place—cement "poured" into wooden moulds or forms, which, when the mass within has hardened to rocklike firmness and solidity are taken down. It seems, all of this, like some sort of fairy tale construction—bizarre, remarkable, a page out of the "Arabian Nights"—but it is being done daily. A "poured" church in Brooklyn has just received its finishing touches. Close to New York, in the country town of Mineola, L. I., the seat of government of the new Nassau county, a "poured" county court house and jail that will be very handsome architecturally are now being built.

As finished, these walls, columns and roofs are as of stone. The mass hardening in the moulds shapes itself precisely. Here, following the mould lines, this wall, though solid artificial stone seems to be of individual blocks. The illusion is startlingly perfect, the more so as a little tooling will give a stone surface to the cement and color and tint have been united in the mass that was poured in.

Under ordinary circumstances, this new idea, although now in successful operation and proved very feasible structurally, might not have attracted especial attention.

But in the past few weeks it has had a champion in the person of no one else than Thomas A. Edison. For once that veteran inventor has assumed a new role—that of prophet. Cement and steel, he declares, are to be the "building materials of the future." Skyscrapers will be built of frameworks of steel, with walls of cement, the steelwork incased in cement as well. All the small dwelling houses that are to come will be of "poured" cement. "They will 'pour a house' then," says Mr. Edison. Additional interest is given to these statements of Mr. Edison from the fact (not known to many) that he is a concrete expert. Plans are now being made by a company in which he is a controlling force to build large Portland cement works in one of the Jersey towns, and part of this plant will be a series of workmen's cottages, constructed of cement, "poured" in moulds, and put up so cheaply that they can be rented for very little. Thus will Mr. Edison start in to prove his words that follow.

These statements of his were printed in interview form in the June number of Insurance Engineering, a technical periodical.

"My impression," said he, "is that the time will come when every contractor will have standard forms of houses, twenty or thirty varieties. The forms will be of wood, and a contractor using one of the standard shapes will simply go out and 'pour' a house. There will probably be hundreds of designs. The contractors will put up their concrete mixer, and have their beams and forms ready. They will pour the form for the first story; complete that, then pour the second story, and so on. To do that all they will require will be common labor—a few men and one boss.

"Such a house can be made very cheaply. It seems to me there will not be much use for any carpenters then. There will be cabinet makers, to be sure. Why, even the doors and the stairs will be made of concrete.

"Houses built in that manner can be rented profitably at say $7 or $8 a month. They will be as cheap as that. And a house can be put up and completed in a few days. The architects will have a fine time, for they can pour statuary and all sorts of ornamentation while they are completing the walls. Thus we will have small palaces renting for about $10 a month. If the contractors have the proper moulds there will not be any difficulty in making the most beautiful houses wonderfully cheap."

POISON IN OLD POTATOES.

COKE DANDRUFF CURE

Its Sale in Janesville and Vicinity Has Reached Enormous Dimensions.

Over 700 Bottles Sold Yesterday.

Those who have used Coke Dandruff Cure have received such favorable results they recommend it to their friends. That, together with the open and honest manner of its introduction, is the proper explanation of its grand success.

It is very important that any neat and well-dressed person, man or woman, first look after the neatness of the hair, which should be kept free of dandruff, and if out of order, like anything else, should be repaired. One cannot be dressed in order with the annoying flakes of dandruff falling from the crown about the shoulders. If you are afflicted with this trouble Coke Dandruff Cure is guaranteed to cure you and make your hair firm and healthy. Go to Smith Drug Co.'s drug store, or your druggist at once, and procure a bottle of Coke Dandruff Cure. You will notice the effect from first application.

by exposure to the sun are poisonous. It seems that this same poisonous substance has been discovered in old potatoes, especially when they begin to sprout. The substance is known as alkaloid solanine. In 1892 and 1893 there was almost wholesale poisoning among the troops of the German army. The symptoms were frontal headache, colic, diarrhoea, vomiting, weakness and slight stupor, and in some cases dilation of the pupils. Meyer investigated the matter and found in old potatoes kept in a damp place and beginning to sprout twenty-four times as much solanine as in new potatoes.—Leslie's Weekly.

THE SIX WISE MEN OF THE WEST

[BY JACK DABBLETON].
In a beautiful country which lies to the west,
(Those who were there, say so, and know best.)
In that beautiful land, as I did say before,
There was plenty, and comforts and blessings galore.

In one little city, most blessed of all,
Where rewards would be great yet if efforts were small;
In that fairy city, inhabitants dwell
Who want's inconvenience never had felt.

This town, on the banks of a beautiful stream,
Was a haven of rest, and it never would seem
As if sorrow and grief (to which mortals are prone),
Could exist here; but joy and contentment alone.

But this sweet fairy spot, this goal, has a curse,
In the shape of six sages, with lauk hungry purses,
'Gainst improvements and progress the council would lay,
Would be plotting by night and obstructing by day!

If a stranger came in they were on the alert
(Lest he might be for progress) their might to assert.
With wise looks and gestures, they'd put under ban
His scheme, for fear progress would lurk in his plan.

Now it happened, a man well supplied with gold,
Came to the Wise Council a scheme to unfold;
He'd carry both persons and goods on a rail,
A plan that would prosper and never could fail.

And he further spoke to these wise men;
It is well for the good people who in this fair city do dwell,
That I build up two buildings which depots I name!
Depots! said the wise men. Yes, depots the same.

And I ask for permission to lay down a rail
Right close to my depots and my scheme cannot fail.
A rail! (all in chorus) a rail, did you say?
No rails for this city; not while we do stay.

In this council chamber, to watch as we should
For those who'd ruin our town, if they could.
No rails, no depots, no new-fangled fads—
We are the wise men of the know-it-all lads.

When the poor man attempted to lay down a rail
The wrath of the wise men they did entail.
That he was seized and cast in a dungeon so dark,
For punishment and for repentance, hark!

The end is not yet; hush! hush! I don't you hear
The steam car of Progress is now coming near;
It is making straight for the wise men with a rush;
And under its wheels it the council will crush.

Gravity Does the Work
For a number of years long wooden flat cars were loaded arduously by shovel with ore, coke, coal, gravel, broken stone or whatever loose materials were to be shipped from point to point, and unloaded arduously in the same way. Large capacity steel cars were introduced which reduced repairs and wear and tear greatly, and made large shipments easier to handle. Machinery came in with derricks, and lifts and traveling cars to make loading more rapid and economical, and now a car has been invented which does away with the tedious unloading. In three-quarters of an hour seven men used to be able to unload twenty-five tons. Now a man without manual labor can in a few seconds unload twice that amount. Mere force of gravity does the work. Adjustable steel valves or floors make it possible to discharge on either side, on both sides at once, on either or both sides of the center, or on both sides and center at the same time. In motion they will spread the load from five to thirty feet from the track, the width of spread depending upon the speed of the train. The average car has a capacity of eighty thousand pounds. The car has also a convertible use. Being made of steel it can be changed in a minute into a well armored car for military operations with narrow loopholes and well covered defense. It has therefore a double advantage for armies in the field.—World's Work.

Mrs. Clarence Kimball, of Rockford, is visiting friends in this city.

CROWNING GLORY OF THE EXPOSITION

The People Themselves Who Visit
Buffalo Are an Impressive
Study and Sight.

At Buffalo the people linger outdoors; they come in greater crowds at night than in the day. They come in family groups, men women and children, in parties—young women workingmen, members of bicycle clubs, teachers—every type from all grades of life, from every part of the country, orderly, prosperous, intelligent, curious, full of good nature. They throng the courts, they fill the Midway; they examine the big guns; they read the Declaration of Independence; they study the map whereon the position of every naval vessel is shown; they visit the Indian village and talk with the chiefs; they cheer the sports in the stadium; they examine the great locomotives; they look at the hooded cattle; they study the charts which show educational progress—nothing is lost on them. They gaze at the splendid tower of light with chandelier-like appreciation; they listen to the bands; they take photographs; they make notes; they buy souvenirs; they ride camels; they make new acquaintances. There was never such a sight under heaven as the people themselves. They gaze at the crowds, never finding a monotonous hour. And they seriously study new inventions, new processes, strange products. Given a splendid spectacle, with an instructive background, and given a cheap railroad fare, and such intelligent, wholesome millions of people flock from our great populous areas as were never seen before, nor in any other land. And they are themselves the crowning glory of the spectacle.—World's Work.

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. ## GOOD GRASS IN NORTH WISCONSIN

Farmers in Drought Stricken Southern Counties May Send Their Cattle North.

"Several men from the southern counties of the state have spoken to me about the suggestion that the farmers from those counties send their cattle to Oconto county to be fed until fall," said ex-Governor Edward Scofield yesterday. The interview with him in which he proposed a plan for the relief of the cattle raisers in the southern counties who have no pasturage for their animals, as a result of the drought, attracted considerable attention, and was seriously discussed by those from that portion of the state, who were not too much engrossed with the carnival to overlook it.

"I believe the suggestion will bear fruit," continued Mr. Scofield, "unless rains come speedily to relieve the condition of the pastures in the dairy counties. One resident of Walworth county told me he was going home tomorrow and would take the matter up his neighbors. He believed the plan was practical and would solve the difficulty. Of course the dairy farmers cannot and it would be impracticable for them to send their cows to Oconto to be fed, but they could send their steers and heifers and the larger calves. These would relieve them of the expense of buying feed for any but the cows—they are milking, and would save many the necessity of selling heifers and steers. Every dairy farmer has a number of cattle growing—not at present productive—and it is a heavy burden for farmers to buy feed to keep them."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

doubtedly adds to their fascination for both wearers and beholders. Some of the small dimity and organdy bonnets are little round affairs, with a stiffened scoop in front cut back so that the ears are uncovered. The stiff part of the bonnet is trimmed with rows of tiny ruffles or the organdy; the shirred crown stands up in a puff, and across the bottom depends a small cape like ruffle. When made of pale blue organdy this bonnet is charming in its effects.

Sometimes the front part of the bonnet curves down on the sides and is shirred on wires to form old-fashioned puffs, while around the face in a full, lace edged, double ruffle. In pale pink mull with tiny Valenciennes edging this bonnet is decidedly attractive, and almost any face that can boast even a small claim to beauty looks stunning when framed by these soft, billowy ruffles, especially if they are in a becoming color.

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. Farmers in Drought Stricken Southern Counties May Send Their Cattle North.

"Several men from the southern counties of the state have spoken to me about the suggestion that the farmers from those counties send their cattle to Oconto county to be fed until fall," said ex-Governor Edward Scofield yesterday. The interview with him in which he proposed a plan for the relief of the cattle raisers in the southern counties who have no pasturage for their animals, as a result of the drought, attracted considerable attention, and was seriously discussed by those from that portion of the state, who were not too much engrossed with the carnival to overlook it.

"I believe the suggestion will bear fruit," continued Mr. Scofield, "unless rains come speedily to relieve the condition of the pastures in the dairy counties. One resident of Walworth county told me he was going home tomorrow and would take the matter up his neighbors. He believed the plan was practical and would solve the difficulty. Of course the dairy farmers cannot and it would be impracticable for them to send their cows to Oconto to be fed, but they could send their steers and heifers and the larger calves. SINGULAR WEDDING
OF TWO CHILDREN

The indulgence of parents and the course they took to remove a strange idea from the minds of two little people led to a singular child wedding at Sterling, Ill., Monday night which has taken on an almost unique seriousness. Little Ruth Cooke, seven years of age, and daughter of Senator J. E. Cook, and a lad of seven, John E. Rife, son of Frank Rife, fell under a strange infatuation for each other and insisted that they were to be married.

The parents endeavored to persuade the little folks out of the idea, but failing in that decided to take another tack, and the mothers set Monday evening as the time for a ceremony their little friends being invited in for the purpose. The little girl insisted on being dressed in white and carrying a bouquet. The little boy was also clad in his Sunday best. Alma, an older sister of the groom, put them through a form of ceremony. This was followed by a wedding supper and a jolly time for all. At the middle of the evening when the parents of the little bride were ready to go home, she insisted that she was to stay and grieved greatly at their persistent decision separating her from her husband; their persuasion not being effective until after a spanking when little Ruth went home in grief.

Early next morning, before breakfast, Ruth started over to be re-joined to her lover when it became evident that nothing but the hand of authority and severe measures would interrupt the strange proceedings. The children finally yielded to this, but are heart broken over the view the older people take of the affair. It is not yet apparent what may grow out of this proceeding.

Backache was the chief symptom and often caused me to suffer severely. I tried a number of remedies but continued to grow worse instead of better. ## SHAFFER ACTS DETECTIVE

In Disguise Warns Steel Workers to Keep Peace.

SEES PLOT OF THE COMBINE.

Non-Union Men Arriving at Wellsville Threatened with Violence—Some Are Sent Out of Town—Experience of a Strike-Breaker.

Wellsville, O., July 25.—President T. J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers was in Wellsville in disguise in the afternoon. He came down from Pittsburgh. On the same train were four men who claimed to be sheetworkers, but were not. No one in the crowd noticed an old man with stooped shoulders, a slouch hat drawn well down over his face, and carrying a grip sack. The man went to a hotel where he sent for Vice President Chappell and other strike leaders, who found enough of a disguise removed to show the man was President Shaffer. Shaffer claimed four men on the train were sent down to incite the strikers to violence, so the mill management could apply for an injunction. He heard of their intention to go on the 3 o'clock train. With the idea of being a star witness in the event of trouble he disguised himself. Shaffer said: "There will be no injunction. There has been no disturbance and there will be none. Until some overt act is committed there can be no application. An injunction in this case would only serve to aggravate matters and would do more than anything else to precipitate trouble. It would also hasten a conference of all the labor leaders of the country for a consideration of the question."

On the same train with Mr. Shaffer from Pittsburgh came nine nonunion men from Apollo and Duncansville, five of whom evaded the strikers' committee and went to work in the mill, while the other four, after going through an experience with the 100 strikers, which at one time seemed likely to end in violence, agreed not to work in the mill and returned to Pittsburgh. The experience of the nonunion men assumed a threatening aspect for a time, but the quickness of five got them into the company offices almost before the train had come to a halt. The strikers had received notice of the coming of the men and met the train. When the nonunionists tumbled off they were surrounded. No violence was attempted, but the greeting of catcalls and ugly epithets was calculated to put the newcomers in anything but an easy frame of mind. Four succumbed to the arguments of the strikers and returned to Pittsburgh. William Carpenter, a professional strike-breaker, who has been working in the nonunion sheet mills at Apollo, was run out of town, amid the jeers and hoots of 500 strikers and sympathizers, who gathered at the station. Carpenter was probably never more glad to get out of any place than he was Wellsville. He went there last night and was at once taken charge of by the strikers. He was invited to go to the fishing camp of strikers on the West Virginia side of the Ohio river, but declined to go. Being urged, he became defiant, but, on the invitations becoming more pressing, he consented. At the camp, in virtual imprisonment, he consented to leave Wellsville.

Negroes Afraid: Train Waiting.
Chicago, July 25.—While residents of Maywood, Melrose Park and Bellwood waited along the tracks of the Chicago Junction railway at 2 o'clock this morning to bar out the trainload of Southern negroes, the much-sought train was sidetracked at Blue Island. The Illinois Central road turned the special train over to the Junction railway at 12:20. None of the negroes on board had tasted food since morning, and they were badly scared, so it was decided not to proceed to Melrose Park till daylight. William King of the Latrobe company, who was in charge of the train, began to forage through the town in the hope of securing food for his throng. The negroes were loud in their protestations that they would not have come North had they known such a tempest was brewing.

Paul.

Suffering physical pain from diseases which made it necessary for him to visit the great specialist, Pres. Kruger has been watching and waiting for the end of the fight for independence which his countrymen have so gallantly made. His mental sufferings at times have greatly aggravated his physical pain, and now that the greatest blow that can come to a devoted husband, has come to him, his physicians fear that this last sorrow may prove too much for the old man to bear.

Mrs. Kruger was truly an ideal helpmeet, but one whose attainments and abilities are less frequently sought after by the modern wife-to-be. Although drawing a salary of $35,000 annually, this plain woman did her own cooking and sewing, and helped her equally plain husband to save something like $25,000,000 in their married lifetime. How many wives today whose husbands' income is even one-tenth of this would think for one minute of the proposition of cooking and sewing? The pleasure derived by this ideal couple was two-fold in that it was the greatest pleasure for this devoted man to sit down to his wife's cooking, not only because it was hers, but because the food was cooked better and served more temptingly than anyone else could cook or serve it, for it was a well known fact that Mrs. Kruger was the best housekeeper in Pretoria.

This old couple could enjoy life to the fullest extent, having no servant girls' union to bother them and knowing that everything was clean and neat, and best of all, just as they wanted it. Perhaps it is the knowledge on the part of our modern wives that they cannot cook so well as the hired girl, or sew so neatly as the dressmaker, that makes these accessories to the well-to-do American home positively necessary.

If this be true it is to the shame of American womanhood. Of course, if the wife has to attend all the clubs and parties to which she is invited, then she will not have time to cook or sew for the children, or even to sew on her husband's buttons. Then a choice must be made between the club, the card or dancing party, and the home work, which only becomes drudgery when the wife lacks the ability to do it properly or willingly. The life of Mrs. Kruger, the model wife and helpmeet, is worthy of the pen of a historian or biographer.

Two years ago Secretary Root took possession of the war office, and changed our historic department into one modern and up-to-date in efficiency. The Spanish war had developed such jealousies between staff and line officers, as to compromise commanders, and jeopardize the efficiency of the army. Mr. Root was a civilian with no military training and even little interest in the army, but he has a level head and an ability in business methods, and this is just what has been lacking in Gen. Alger's administration.

Within two years he has reorganized the army and increased its size, carefully investigating every point before making a decision, but acting as soon as the decision was made. Mr. Root has reorganized the line and staff officers so as to eliminate all jealousies, and increase its efficiency. Not content with these changes, Secretary Root has secured an appropriation of $10,000 for the establishment of four permanent camps of instruction, accessible to the army and state militias. He has just completed a tour of inspection of the military forts and schools with the purpose of making them more useful to the entire army as instruction points, where every soldier will spend a part of his time in school. In this way he will raise the order of intelligence and consequently the morals of the army. Annual maneuvers have of necessity been omitted from our army curriculum, and their benefits can easily be seen in any of the military countries where they have been held regularly. Secretary Root proposes to make these war colleges supply the instruction obtained by these foreign maneuvers. Much as the army owes to the secretary during the past two years it is evident he intends to do more for it in the years to come.

An English surgeon on meeting an ex-soldier exclaimed, "I am surprised to see you, I have a portion of your brain at home." The reply came, "Oh, well, I can spare it; I have a berth in the war office."

The Sampson-Schley controversy is in a fair way to be settled for all time. Admiral Schley has asked for a naval review or trial board to be appointed to pass judgment on his conduct at the battle of Santiago. The request will in all probability be granted and the admiral of the navy may preside. After the probable acquittal Schley will resort to the civil courts in a trial against "Laborer" Maclay. It is fortunate for the peace of mind of the entire country, as well as for the good names of the two rear admirals directly concerned that an unprejudiced court of expert naval officers as well as an unbiased civil court are to hear all the testimony concerning the famous question, and the judgment will probably be satisfactory to both men and final for all time. There cannot be any great amount of blame attached to either of these veterans, as they both welcome the official inquiry and both have suffered unduly because of ill advised assiduousness of friends and admirers.

Some bright man is afraid that the mosquito soaked in oil, to destroy him, will rush from the gas jet to the curtains and burn down the house. How far will a mosquito fly after passing through a gas flame?

A fad among society girls is to collect a silver spoon from each hostess, at tea parties and receptions, and yet would be insulted at being called a sneak thief.

A lady-bug trust is the latest. It is the result of advertisements by South American farmers who want them to destroy some unyielding bugs which are injurious to the crops.

The actresses keep their maiden names before the public, but their husbands behind the curtain.

Tomorrow will be an era-day for Porto Rico, as the president will proclaim free trade at that time.

MACHINERY FOR STONE CRUSHER

Work on the City Plant Will Now Be Pushed to Completion—Will Start Street Work.

The first installment of new machinery for the city stone crushing plant arrived this morning and will be put in place at once. The work on the crusher has been delayed several days on account of the non-arrival of this machinery. The manufacturers claim that they have been delayed in the delivery by the strikes at the iron and steel mills, but will be able to get everything here in a day or two.

The engine, boiler, crusher and bins are all ready for work as soon as the balance of the machinery is in place. It is expected that the plant will start up on Monday morning and that the contractors can then go on and complete their jobs of street work. The capacity of the crushed stone bins is about one-third more than the old ones so that there will be plenty of stone on hand at all times for the contractors.

James Cape & Sons, of Racine, will be in the city the early part of next week and start their street work. Brown and Connors will also be able to complete the work already begun on Franklin, Academy and Pleasant streets which are ready for the layers of stone.

"TOO HOT TO BE KILLED."

Continues Saves Mayor of Allen From a Madman's Frenzy.

Alton, Ill., July 25.—"Your time has come," said Robert Blanton of Malden, Mo., to Mayor A. W. Young of this city, as he placed his hand on the latter's shoulder.

"Who are you? Where did you come from, and who sent you?" asked the mayor.

"I came straight down from the sky. God sent me and told me to kill you. The sun is going to drop down today and set the earth afire, and I am sent to spare you that death."

The man had a revolver, his eyes glazed with madness and his face with determination.

"It is awfully hot weather to be killed," said the mayor. "Suppose we go and get a cool drink first."

"I don't drink, but I will go with you till you get one," was the reply, and together they walked two blocks until the mayor marched into police headquarters, where the man was captured and disarmed. He had become suddenly crazed from heat.

FARMER RODAN IN A RUNAWAY

Frank Rodan, a farmer living near Hanover, had a bad runaway last evening during the storm that came near resulting seriously for him. He was driving down Linn street when his horse became frightened at the dust and debris blown up by the wind that preceded the rain and began to rear and plunge. One of the shafts broke and the horse now thoroughly frightened ran away.

After going a short distance the wagon ran into a ditch and was overturned. Rodan was thrown out and his head striking a rock rendered him unconscious for half an hour. A call for the fire patrol was sent in but by the time the wagon arrived Rodan had been removed to the house of a friend who later took him to his home. The horse was somewhat injured and the wagon was demolished.

HEAVY SOAKING RAIN DID GOOD

A Furious Storm Passed
Over This Section
Last Evening.

ALSO SOME DAMAGE

Spectacular Electrical Effects
Caused Considerable Fright and Amazement.

A BENEFIT TO CROPS

Wind, rain, lightning and thunder paid a furious visit to this city last night and the heavy soaking rain that fell did a vast amount of good. The storm was general all over the city and had every appearance of extending over the country. It was the first good storm that has visited Janesville in many weary weeks.

It was also a spectacular storm and while the general effects were beneficial to a large degree, the lightning and wind caused considerable damage in individual cases. The storm broke in its full fury at ten minutes past six o'clock last evening. The sky became overcast with light clouds and they were rapidly replaced by dark, threatening clouds which had a business like appearance.

Lightning Was Vivid
The wind came first and with terrific force. Strong trees bowed before it almost to the ground and the first sheets of rain that fell were carried some distance horizontally through the air before the rain reached the ground.

The lightning was vivid and the zig-zag streaks, which carry danger in their quickly darting lines, were intermingled with the more harmless flashes of sheet lightning, evidence of the surcharging of the atmosphere with electricity. These vivid flashes seemed unusually low in the air and close to the earth.

Struck Buob's Brewery
Lightning struck Buob's brewery shortly after six o'clock and burned out both telephones but did no other damage other than frightening a number of people who had taken refuge in the office. The main street car on its trip up town at a quarter past six found its progress impeded by a part of a tree which had blown across the track near the brewery. The car being temporarily disabled the passengers in the car ran to the brewery for protection from the storm. Among the passengers were a number of ladies and the party had hardly been comfortably installed in the brewery office when the bolt of lightning struck, entering on the telephone wire, smashing the phones and making a terrific report. Some of the ladies fainted away and there was considerable excitement for some time. A tree across the road from the brewery was also struck by lightning and shattered.

Shattered a Residence
About the same time another bolt struck John Oas' house on Glen street, demolishing the chimney to some extent and following the chimney to the cellar where it disappeared. The family was badly frightened but felt no effects from the lightning. The smoke and odor which accompanied the bolt made members of the family fear fire and an alarm was sent in from box 26, the department responding quickly. Chief Spencer received an electric shock when he sounded the fire out signal.

Some Damage Was Done
Damage was not only done to the lightning but by the wind which blew articles in every direction, uprooted trees, broke off limbs and tore the building advertising Ringling Bros. circus loose from many awnings and buildings.

Things were especially lively at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets. Nail kegs, saw horses, loose boards and other articles which are being used in remodeling the Jackman block were blown from the top of the building and hurled through the air, which was filled with the flying articles.

One heavy board was blown from the top of the building with such force that it flew swiftly across Milwaukee street, smashed through the plate glass window in Carter & Morse's insurance office and was carried clear across the office before it deposited itself on the floor.

Two windows in the Hayes block were broken by flying boards from the rival sky-scraper across the street.

Rain Pleases Tobacco Men
Tobacco men were especially well pleased with last night's rain and say that it was of inestimable value. The plentiful down-pour of rain changed the outlook considerably and local well-informed dealers say that they hope to see at least two-thirds of the usual crop. Of course the early set fields, which had a good start before the dry weather, have been forced up to an early bud without any spread of leaves and cannot amount to much, but much of the later set is alive and it is in this that the hope of tobacco grower and dealer lies. The late set plants have a big root and while the tops are very small for this time of the year they will come along under favorable weather. With a little encouragement, such as rain alone can give, the plants will grow rapidly, so tobacco growers say.

Face Discouraging Prospects
The tobacco growers of the state and especially of Rock county have never before faced such a discouraging prospect and even if rain does save a portion of the general crop now there are many growers whose tobacco will be almost if not entirely a total loss.

Many planted their tobacco so early that it has already topped out while the leaves are still very small and others found no favorable opportunity for planting at all so that they have no tobacco in their fields. What is true of tobacco is true to a greater or less extent of other crops and the rich agricultural counties of southern Wisconsin would scarcely like to be judged by this year's harvest.

Blew Down Barns and Sheds
The heavy wind last night blew down several barns and tobacco sheds north of Edgerton and a number of head of cattle were killed by lightning. Lightning caused a bad fire on the old Decker farm on the Madison road near Leyden last evening. The barns and tobacco sheds were consumed and several head of cattle killed.

Reception Never Came Off.

Emile Oliver, who recently received Emilie Fauguet into the French Academy, was never received officially into that body himself. He was elected in 1870 to succeed Lamartine, but the Prussian war and his unlucky phrase about entering upon the war with a light heart made it necessary to postpone the reception, which never came off.

ANOTHER PIONEER SETTLER HAS GONE

GERMAN H. DAVIS DIED AT HIS HOME IN CHICAGO TODAY.

He Had Reached the Age of Eighty One Years—Body Will Reach Janesville About Noon Tomorrow and Will Be Interred at Oak Hill at Once—Brief Biography.

German Harmon Davis, one of the pioneers of Janesville died at his home in Chicago this morning at the venerable age of eighty-one years. The sad news came in a telegraph message to F. D. Kimball and will bring sadness in many homes where Mr. Davis was known and loved.

His remains will be brought to this city for interment where the greater part of his life was happily spent. The funeral party will arrive from Chicago at 11:47 o'clock tomorrow noon and will go directly to Oak Hill cemetery where brief funeral services will be conducted at the grave. Rev. J. A. M. Richey, rector of Trinity church, officiating.

German Davis was at one time a prominent merchant and hotel proprietor of Janesville and was numbered among the pioneers of 1849. He was born in Windsor county, Vermont, May 20, 1820, and was a descendant on both maternal and paternal sides from families of early New England ancestry. He grew to manhood in his native county and when about twenty-one years of age he engaged Reading, Vt. Later he moved to Windsor, Vt., where he engaged in the hotel business which he conducted but a short time.

In the spring of 1849 Mr. Davis moved west, landing in this city but at once purchasing a farm in Plymouth township. After spending two years in its improvement he returned to Janesville and purchased the Stage house, that stood near the corner of East Milwaukee and Main streets where the Hotel Myers now stands. He managed the Stage house for two years and then engaged in general merchandising for the next three or four years. Closing out his store he engaged in the produce business in which he continued for fifteen years when he returned once more to hotel life, managing the Commercial house for some years.

Many years ago he retired from active life. He was an enthusiastic Odd Fellow being for many years a member of Janesville lodge No. 90. In politics he was a loyal Republican.

Mr. Davis was twice married. His first wife was Miss Nancy Williams to whom he was married at Chester, Vt., March 20, 1842. Three children all of whom were living, were born to them and in 1868 the mother of the family crossed the dark river of death. Four years later on the 27th of June Mr. Davis was married to Mrs. Minnie Davis, the widow of his brother, the wedding taking place in Vermont. One son, Edward G., was born to them.

Several years ago the family moved to Chicago. Mr. Davis is survived by his wife, two daughters and two sons. Mrs. Emma Minor, Mrs. O. C. Ford and George W. Davis are the surviving children by the first wife and his son Edward also mourns the loss of a devoted father.

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO HIS MEMORY

Funeral Services Over the Remains of the Late George Barriage Held This Afternoon.

The home of the late George Barriage, 251 North Bluff street, was filled with sorrowing friends of the deceased and of his family this afternoon when the last tribute of respect was paid to his memory. The funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock and were brief and impressive. Rev. Walter A. Hall, pastor of Court Street M. E. church officiating. The song service was beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. O. Wilson. Members of Florence Camp No. 366 Modern Woodmen of America were present as a lodge and an exquisite floral design bearing the letters M. W. A. was among the beautiful tributes sent by sympathizing friends.

At the close of the services at the house, the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the beautiful Modern Woodman burial service being conducted by the local order. The pall bearers were also chosen from Florence Camp of which the deceased man was such a loyal member and were C. W. Brooks, Wallace Cackrane, James Gardner, C. E. Brown, William Marsden and George Rathjen.

Besides the Modern Woodman floral tribute which was a handsome shield, there were several other handsome special designs including a large harp from the members of the fire companies, a pillow from the family and an axe, indicative of the deceased man's trade from Mrs. J. C. Spencer. In addition to these special designs there were many handsome bouquets.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT ORFORDVILLE

Ongard & Peterson's Store Burned to the Ground Last Night—Loss About $4,000—Insured.

Orfordville, Wis., July 25.—Last night one of the most destructive fires ever here broke out in Ongard & Peterson's store building and burned it to the ground. The fire was first discovered by Herman Trulson, who was sleeping in the second story and he almost suffocated from the heat and smoke. He found his way out of the building and gave the alarm. Almost immediately a large number of men were at hand ready to do all in their power to save the building and those adjoining.

At first it was supposed that the fire was under control, but it suddenly broke out in other parts of the building and then the only resource was to save the buildings on either side.

For three hours the men worked like fiends to keep the fire from starting in Roen's jewelry store or in Wee and Ness's building with marked success, but it was owing to the heavy rain which fell when the fire was the fiercest and the wind which blew directly away from the buildings on either side, that they were able to keep the flames from spreading. The fire was first discovered at 11:30 p. m. and is supposed to have originated in the four rooms caused by spontaneous combustion.

The building was a frame structure two stories high and was one of the oldest and largest buildings in the village, being 100 feet long. The first floor was occupied by the Farmers & Merchants' bank, who are fully insured; F. T. Morris furniture, loss $1,000; insurance $300; Norris & Trulson, general merchandise, loss $3,000; insurance $3,000; the upper floor by Herman Trulson and Nels Ongard, who lost all of their personal effects saving only what they were wearing. Preparations will be made at once for a new brick building.

USE MEANS TO STOP PLAGUE.

Cases at New York Were the Genuine Disease.

REAPPEARS ON THE COAST.

Reports of Increased Mortality from Bubonic Plague Continue to Come in from Nearly Every Part of the World—Five Thousand Deaths.

Washington, D. C., July 25.—Surgeon General Wyman has received information in regard to the case of bubonic plague discovered on the steamship Hohenfels at New York. Dr. Wyman said this afternoon the diagnosis was unquestionably correct, but the most active and thorough measures would be taken to prevent the infection reaching shore. Despite the most rigorous measures of precaution bubonic plague still appears in San Francisco. The thorough cleaning up of Chinatown under supervision of the federal authorities was completed on June 22, and no cases of the dreaded disease appeared during the cleaning process, but it had hardly been finished when the infection broke out once more. Three cases were discovered between July 6 and July 11. All were fatal and were reported to the marine hospital service in Washington with the following comments: "Diagnosis confirmed by bacteriological examination and necessary precautions taken. Passed Assistant Surgeon Rupert Blue, in charge, and two assistants continue to cooperate with the state and city health authorities in making inspections and post-mortem examinations." Reports of increased mortality from bubonic plague continue to come in from United States marine hospital surgeons in nearly every part of the world. In Hong-Kong there have been 1,154 cases and 1,088 deaths, and the most rigid inspection of incoming and outgoing passengers and baggage is exercised. There were 115 deaths during the week ending on June 11. A large number of deaths daily are reported from Canton, China. Plague has been especially severe in the cities of Tung Kun and Shek Lung on the east river. Plague is reported from many cities in Egypt, from British India, Mauritius, Cape Colony and West Australia, and Queensland. The epidemic is increasing alarmingly in Formosa, and Japanese ports are also dangerously threatened and active sanitary measures have been taken. Since May 12, 5,716 deaths from bubonic plague in various parts of the world have been reported by United States officers.

Denies She Is Kate Bender.

Denver, Col., July 25.—Mrs. Frank Ayres, suspected of being Kate Bender, one of the family of notorious Kansas murderers, ridicules the charge made by her husband and says she will easily prove an alibi. Her mother, known in Fort Collins, where they reside, as Mrs. Reed, is separated from her husband, who is living in Utah. It is charged that this old woman is in reality Mrs. Bender, and that a man named Will Baker, living at Longmont, is young Bender. The requisition papers from Kansas have not arrived.

THE FOSBURG MURDER TRIAL.

Sister and Father Give Story of Tragedy.

BOTH TELL OF BURGLARS.

Young Girl Weeps as She Describes Shooting and Events Leading Up to It—Holds Brother Innocent—Cross-Examination of Girl.

Pittsfield, Mass., July 25.—Beatrice Fosburg, the 15-year-old sister of Robert S. Fosburg, on trial charged with killing his sister May, was the chief witness for the defense today. The prisoner's father, Robert L. Fosburg, also told the story of the shooting. Cross-examination developed no contradictory statements. Both of these witnesses gave details of the events leading to the death of May Fosburg just as told by all members of the family. Much interest was shown in the young girl's evidence, and she several times broke down and wept in relating the story of the tragedy. Her grief affected many in the courtroom and sobbing was heard during her examination. Beatrice Fosburg stated positively that she did not see her brother Robert before she saw the flash from the pistol which caused her sister's death. He was coming from his room when this shot was fired. Mr. Joyner, attorney for the defense, closed his presentation of the case this morning, showing why the Fosburgs kept firearms in the house and outlining the evidence which he intended to present to prove the burglary story true. Beatrice Fosburg, in her testimony, said she was awakened by a loud scream. She jumped out of bed and went toward the door. May was ahead of her. Suddenly she heard her sister exclaim: "O, gracious!" The room was dark at the time. Just as she got in front of the door she saw a pillowcase in front of her. A pair of eyes peered through holes in the pillowcase. She saw a flash, and then she turned around and felt Robert going past her. She turned on the light and screamed: "O, there are burglars in the house. Beatrice went on to tell how her father and brother came in and how Robert entered and fell to the floor. Her mother asked her father what time it was. He told her it was 1:20. Her brother James, at this point, said men were coming; that they had better dress. Beatrice also testified that she found a brown hat. It was all smashed in. District Attorney Hammond cross-examined the witness. She said she was down stairs when Dr. Paddock arrived and did not see the body of her sister placed on the bed. She remembered that two shots were fired, but she never said that it was the second shot that killed her sister. She did state at the inquest that she was directly behind May when the shot was fired which caused her death. She denied testifying that she did not know where the defendant was when the shot which resulted in her sister's death was fired. The witness also denied that she had testified that she turned on the light after her sister fell and that she heard a shot before her sister fell to the floor. This testimony was given in reply to questions as to what she had testified at the inquest. Beatrice said she saw no light before she got out of bed, that May got up first and ran around the bed to the doorway and had reached the door into the hall when she was shot.

Farmers Perfect a Trust.

Indiana Producers Claim Middlemen Exact Large Profits.

Wabash, Ind., July 25.—Farmers around Barber's mills have perfected a trust in handling grain and live stock. Their action was precipitated by the Eastern Indiana Grain Dealers' Association forcing an arbitrary price for grain. Farmers claim the middlemen have exacted large profits, and propose to take up transactions direct with city dealers. Nearly all the farmers in Rock Creek township have signed the agreement. Negotiations for rates on grain and stock for one year have been taken up with the Lake Erie and Western, Erie and Clover Leaf roads, and the line making the lowest bid will get the business. The highest net prices on track in Wells county will be asked of Eastern elevator and stock men, varying with the quotations in Eastern markets, and farmers in the association will ship to contracting dealers direct.

A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my household work up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hours' pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

Mother's Friend

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breaths is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

HAVE I MADE YOU ANGRY, DARLING?

SUITED TO SUMMER WEATHER.

The victim of flattery generally victimizes himself. If you hit the iron often enough you will get it hot enough to strike.

Poultry farming does not always pay, in spite of a plenitude of full crops.

The expression "The iron has entered into my sole" probably originated with a man who stepped on a carpet tack.

THE KAZOO

What Is It?

It is the latest and most complete device in boy suspenders and hose supporters combined that has ever been brought to the attention of mothers who desire to avoid the annoyance of their boys' hose coming unfastened or hose supporter giving out continually.

It is made of the very best and strongest material, using rubber cord of 72 strands, which outwears any elastic web that can be produced. Also we use the Cyclone grip for the hose, which avoids any possibility of their coming unfastened or of cutting the hose. It is made adjustable, so you may hold the hose perfectly smooth. The suspender part buttons as does other suspenders, with same 72 strand rubber strand cord for ends which does not lose the elasticity as does the common web suspender, thereby avoiding the annoyance of having the buttons pull off because of the stretch being out of the suspender, as this end holds its elasticity till worn out.

The prices on the Kazoo is only 50 cents and 75 cents, and the fact that they will outwear any other suspender or supporter by great odds, makes them the most economical article ever offered in this line. They are made in sizes from 4 to 14.

Do not economize by allowing your boy to wear common elastic around the limb, as you endanger the health by stopping the circulation and increase the doctor bill.

NOTICE!

Now that the wall paper rush is over, we are better able than ever to care for your wants. The treatment of wall papers nowadays differs widely from the old-fashioned methods. They are adjusted to the walls and their surroundings with the same care for artistic effect that the artist gives when applying his colors to the canvas. Floral designs are cut out and applied with all the effectiveness of a mural painting; striped designs are prettily mitered and made to yield a much handsomer effect than their cost would intimate. Inexpensive papers for bedrooms are handled in many ingenious ways; for example, rooms with low ceilings are made to look higher, or by another treatment the reverse effect is produced. Such work, of course, must be done by experts; and we employ skilled artists and designers to assist our customers in making selections and give helpful advice on all subjects referring to interior decoration.
